Belonging

Dear Friends, Many people feel they ‘belong’ in Grasmere and Rydal. So many have come on holiday since childhood, with their extended families. Every year memories have been laid down, children grown a little taller, fell tops easier to climb. Photos taken at the cairns track the family’s progress year by year, till the fleet-footed teenagers run ahead and ten years later bring along their partners too.

Those who have lived here all their lives have seen the changes days by day, decade by decade, yet the fells and meres and skies play a longer game and outlast us all. Echoes linger of people who have dwelt here before, some known for gingerbread or poetry, journals or walling, shepherding or schooling, some not known by name at all. Tracks over the raise or fell shoulders, up Easedale, Helm Crag or Nab Scar, bid us join our forebears to look down into the vale.

I too feel I have ‘belonged’ for a long time, as a visitor since my teens and having trained for ordained ministry at Rydal Hall 25 years ago. Our family too has grown up in the fells and now it’s time to introduce the next generation to climbing up, fuelled by Smarties (maybe), to the picnic at the top. My short time as parish priest here has been a surprising and unexpected glimpse of the intersection between visitors who feel we belong, full-time residents who do, and the timeless vale we all treasure.

As we retire nearby, perhaps we will make some sort of transition to belonging in a different way – for we already feel we’ve always been here, with our memories and our ‘no need of maps’ as the poem opposite says. Our feet already know many tracks and our family has old haunts. Soon our grandson will be old enough for the Pencil Museum on a rainy day. And ‘the jigsaw shop’ in Grasmere. And the Lion and the Lamb in a few years’ time. And the ridge walk from Silver Howe to Stickle Tarn and back down Great Langdale. And the tea shop behind Rydal Hall.

As we restore a garden and watch our planted trees establish and the foxgloves illuminate cleared spaces where the scrub saplings and nettle thickets were, bluebells and wild daffodils have some light again: they flowered last year for the first time in a decade or so.

All of us belong together in some sense, in the worldwide, timeless, deeply-rooted family of God’s beloved children. May God be with you and bless you always. Till we meet again. Gill

WI NEWS

The Rothay Garden Hotel was the venue once again for our excellent Christmas Lunch. After the meal we were treated to some delightful carols sung by the children of Grasmere School. Thanks to all of you.

Our January meeting was the first to be held in our new venue, the Village Hall. Theresa Wooll gave us a very entertaining talk on “The World of Executive Jets”. The Hall was warm and welcoming, and Sonia and Jennifer provided delicious tea and cakes served from the lovely new kitchen. We all agreed that the Hall Committee has worked wonders and we really appreciate the effort that has been made to make this a venue to be proud of. Grasmere WI are very happy with their new home!

Member Jill Morrison has suggested that it would be a good idea for us to meet informally each month for a “Grasmere Ramble”. We are very enthusiastic about this, and we have decided to earmark the afternoon of the fourth Thursday every month to meet up, walk and talk. We’ll meet at 1.30 on Moss Parrock. By the time you read this we’ll have done our first ramble on 24 January. The next will be 28 February. Anyone is welcome to join us – friends, family, visitors. This is not a led or guided walk, just a group of people walking together in our beautiful local area.

Our February 14th meeting marks the 100th Birthday of Grasmere WI. We are celebrating with a special members’ Lunch at Tweedies Lodge. The three course lunch (with choices) and coffee is £25. Please contact Myra McCraith to pay, and choose your meal by 7th February if you have not already done so.

Our March 14th meeting at 2pm in the Village Hall sees Judy Clay talk to us on the important topic of Fraud Prevention. Non members welcome £4.

Details of all our meetings for 2019 can be found on our website – www.grasmerewi.btck.co.uk

On Tuesday March 19th we are holding our annual Gather Day to raise funds for the Great North Air Ambulance. More details of this can be found opposite. Please help us once again to support this vital local charity. Your unwanted items can help save lives.

Looking ahead, on Saturday 18 May we will be hosting a Table Top Sale in the Village Hall. Tables will be £10. Please spread the word! If you would like to book a table contact Jill, Sue, or any other Committee member. Sue Dixon

Another year seems to have gone by very quickly. Our final events for this season are as follows.

February 7th A wintry topic for a winter's day. James Clarkson-Webb will recount his experience walking to the South Pole

February 21st Our well-known local resident Nick McCraith will give us his Medic's Tale. I am sure it will be as entertaining as its Chaucerian predecessors.

March 7th Distinguished photographic pair Alan and Julie Walker take us on a journey down South America with a talk entitled Hot and Cold.

March 21st After a very short AGM John Campbell will take us through some local legends and folk ballads in a talk (it might also contain the occasional song) entitled "The Crier of Claife".

It is my turn to stand down as chairman this year so hopefully you will be spared my prattling on in next year's season. We have some speakers in mind but suggestions are always welcomed in order to keep us as well entertained as in the past. David Dodgson

Knit and Nat

Happy New Year from the Knit and Nat group! We celebrated the Knit & Nat 4th birthday with an afternoon tea and birthday cake with candles, thanks to Carrie.

The knitting continues for the babies; the bag in which we store the items is becoming rather full; I felt like a bag lady when walking home from the last Knit and Nat because there were so many lovely items brought for the baby units. We have to say thank you to everyone who is knitting at home and sending their items to meetings, some of these knitters are people are returning to knitting after a break. Thanks to Sharon's knitting pattern in the Village Society newsletter we have more than thirty hats for premature babies to take to one of the baby units, possibly Lancaster or Barrow. We also have a good selection of cardigans and blankets.

Ann Dixon was able to tell us that the grand total of shoeboxes they created in Hawkshead for Teams4U was 1,250 — a tremendous effort. On their website (teams4U.com) there are some moving photographs and facts from the 2018 trip to deliver the 38,000 shoeboxes they collected throughout the country to children in Belarus, Bosnia, Ukraine and Romania. It's good to think that our little knitting group in Grasmere contributed to keeping these children cosy this winter.

In February our meetings will be on the second Friday 8th and the fourth Tuesday 26th, March meetings are the same the 8th and the 26th. We look forward to seeing people and there is always a cup of tea or coffee and often a biscuit. Christine Batey

School News

We have had a visit from Ofsted. It was a one day inspection, so the outcome is limited to 'good'. However, if the inspector is very impressed, she can recommend a full inspection, so that Ofsted can judge if the school is outstanding. This is what she has done. We don't know when the full inspection will be, but we're very pleased.

The judgements of the last full Ofsted , ie Outstanding for Early Years etc, still stand. As the inspector put it, the school has significantly improved since the last inspection.

Here is a précis of the report:

"You and each member of the senior leadership team have considerable expertise and work with teachers to ensure that activities are stimulating and planned to maximise pupils' learning.

"You continue to be an inspirational headteacher who leads by example in your many and varied roles. You ensure that staff morale is high by valuing all that staff do and making sure that everyone works together as a team. You state on your website that underpinning the school are 'strong, caring relationships and a shared zest for life and learning' and that was evident during the inspection.

"You and the staff ensure that children get off to a flying start in the early years. The proportion of children reaching a good level of development was higher than the national average in 2018. The proportion of pupils reaching expected standards by the end of key stage 2 in reading, writing and mathematics was above the national average in 2018. Similarly, the proportion reaching higher standards in reading and mathematics and greater depth in writing was also above the national average. Pupils are clearly being very well prepared for the next stage in their education. This is one of the many reasons why parents choose this school for their children, despite not living locally.

"Pupils clearly enjoy coming to school and love learning. This is reflected in above average levels of attendance by the vast majority of pupils. Parents commented on how appreciative they are that staff 'go the extra mile' to develop pupils' character as well as their academic skills. You are mindful of the pressures on young people today and the importance of fostering both their mental and physical well-being. Whole-school outings, scrambling the fells around the school and admiring the beauty of nature puts life's challenges into perspective both for the children and staff. One parent summed up the views of many in describing this as 'an absolute diamond of a school'"

Cooking. The juniors have a cooking project this term. They are working towards a 'street food market' on April 5th. We're grateful to Beth Abbott for letting us use her catering kitchen for this project, and to the Co-op who are providing many ingredients. Please come along on 5th April to buy our food!

We're also going to have a Spring concert this term. We'll let you know the date in due course. Keep an eye on the school facebook page or school calendar, to know what's going on.

Events at the Wordsworth Trust

Our Reimagining Wordsworth project is underway (see below) but we have plenty of excellent events to share with you that will brighten up the days as we see out the last of the darker months.

Prism Arts' emerging/outsider artists have been invited to explore our archives and share their findings with us in a series of themed workshops. On Saturday 9 February they will focus on tourism and the rural idyll, revealing how artists and writers have created the Lake District for us, and on Saturday 9 March they will explore the life and work of Dora Wordsworth. These sessions will also help the artists develop ideas for artworks to commemorate Wordsworth's 250th birthday in 2020.

On Saturday 16 February we are joined by Peter Quinn of the Bewick Society and acclaimed author Jenny Uglow to present an afternoon of talks in tribute to Iain Bain's life and unsurpassed collection of the artist's manuscripts and printing blocks recently acquired by the trust. Bewick was an incredible artist and engraver of natural history and day-to-day life of the early nineteenth century, and there will also be a printing press demonstration using Bewick woodblock images – not to be missed.

On Wednesday 20 February Professor John Strachan will take a detailed look at Wordsworth's 1803 poem on the ancient Lakeland yew trees at Lorton Vale and Borrowdale, and the critical comment and controversies which the poem has produced since its first publication.

On Sunday 10 March we are partnering up with the Poetry Business to host an afternoon of snapshot poetry readings: twelve contemporary poets from their 2017/18 school will have only five minutes each to showcase the best parts of their work!

Pamela Woof's literature classes exploring The Prelude 1805 return on Wednesday 13 February and Wednesday 13 March. Even if you have never been, you are very welcome to come along – and copies of the book will be provided.

Our regular gatherings continue as usual. Grasmere History Group meets on Tuesday 5 February and Tuesday 5 March, with topics for 2019 in mind. Enjoy some poetry and a cup of tea by the fire with Polly Atkin at our evening Discover Poetry sessions - Thursday 21 February will be our last session in Dove Cottage until the summer, with the Thursday 21 March session taking place at an alternative location, to be announced soon. Dove Cottage Poets meet to read and talk about contemporary poetry on Thursday 7 February and Thursday 7 March.

If you would like to book on to any of these events or find out more, please send us an email at enquiries@wordsworth.org.uk or give us a call on 015394 35544. In the next issue we'll be telling you all about our brand new Spring/Summer events programme – and we have lots of surprises in store!

Reimagining Wordsworth - the work begins

2019 will be one of the most exciting years in the Wordsworth Trust's history, as we redevelop the site as part of our Heritage Lottery Funded project Reimagining Wordsworth. Throughout 2019 and early 2020, we will be opening a new café and learning centre, opening up previously unused outdoor spaces, expanding and modernising the museum, and carrying out careful restoration in Dove Cottage, bringing it even closer to the home William and Dorothy would have known. This project is an incredible opportunity to bring Wordsworth's story into the 21st century, in time to celebrate his 250th birthday in April 2020.

As a result of this project, there will be some changes as to what visitors are able to do in 2019. As with any kind of building work, the timings and exact details of the work and therefore what will be open may change. The best thing to do is to check our website or give us a call to find out the most up-to-date information. Here's how things currently stand:

- The Wordsworth Museum will be closed for redevelopment work throughout 2019.
- Our shop will be open in the Foyle Room from early February onwards.
- Dove Cottage itself will be open from July until the end of October. When the cottage is closed, an alternative experience will be available in the Jerwood Centre (see below for details).
- The new café and learning centre will open in the summer.
- The new museum and reinterpreted Dove Cottage will open in early 2020.

The good news is that when Dove Cottage is closed, there will be an alternative experience in the Jerwood Centre, our collections and archive building. This will involve a virtual tour of Dove Cottage presented by a Dove Cottage guide. If you haven't yet been inside the Jerwood Centre, this is perfect chance to have a look around, as this experience will take place within the book-lined walls of our Reading Room. This experience will be running from the 1st March.

This is the current situation at the time of writing, and detailed plans will be made in the next few weeks after appointment of the main contractor. There is much more to be said about the plans themselves and we always welcome the opportunity to discuss these with our neighbours in the village. If you'd like to know more, please get in touch – our general phone line is 015394 35544, or you can drop us an email enquiries@wordsworth.org.uk

We will still have a full programme of events planned, some of which will be taken on tour around Cumbria. See our events programme above.

Jeff Cowton Curator and Head of Learning Wordsworth Trust

Music Notes

As expected, December was a busy time for choir and organist, leading up to a successful Festival of Nine Lessons and Carols, for which the church choir was strengthened with a few additional singers. The choir also sang at the funeral of former member Shelagh Griffin, and at the wedding of Emily and Jack Pascoe. The annual Christmas social event took the form of a lunch at Emma's Dell, which was greatly appreciated.

On Sunday 24th February after the morning service at St. Oswald's there will be the Annual General Meeting of the Music at Grasmere society, at which the accounts for 2018 will be ratified, and plans for 2019 will be announced. All are welcome to attend this meeting in church, when there will also be a progress report on the Organ Appeal.

Some members of the church choir will be taking part in a concert in Carlisle Cathedral on Saturday 23rd March at 7.30 p.m., to be given by Cumbria Rural Choirs conducted by Prof. John Butt, of Glasgow University, the programme to include the Mozart Requiem and Haydn Seven Last Words. The present writer will be giving a lunchtime organ recital in Kendal Parish Church on Friday 8th March at 12.30 pm. Ian Hare

Grasmere Book Group

The final book group of 2018 met with a feast of mulled drink, mince pies and mystery tales. December's reading was Robert Barr's The Triumphs of Eugene Valmont (1906). Barr, a friend of Arthur Conan Doyle and Jerome K Jerome, wrote a series of short stories featuring the French detective Valmont. Many noticed the similarity between Valmont and Agatha Christie's Poirot. However, we were able to relate Christie's response in the 1950s to this pointed observation, 'I think nothing of Valmont'. The group noted some stand-out stories, being drawn to the easily gulled participants of 'The Absent-Minded Coterie' and surely ripe for a TV adaptation, the clever, haunted 'The Ghost with the Club-Foot'. For keen followers of Grasmere book group, this was another 'obscure Canadian' text slipped into the group's reading!

Our January meeting put forward a wide array of titles for 2019, and from these we've set out an exciting reading plan for the year ahead.

Feb 14th – Ali Smith, Autumn (2016)

Mar 14th – Rose Macaulay, Crewe Train (1926)

Apr 11th – Amor Towles, A Gentleman in Moscow (2016)

May 9th – Anna Burns, Milkman (2018)

Jun 13th – Miriam Darlington, Owl Sense (2018)

Jul 11th – Philip Pullman, La Belle Sauvage (2017)

Aug 8th – Salley Vickers, The Librarian (2018)

Sep 12th – Olga Tokarczuk, Flights trans Jennifer Croft (2018)

Oct 10th – Stevie Smith, Novel on Yellow Paper (1936)

Nov 14th – Isabelle Allende, In the Midst of Winter (2017)

Dec 12th – EM Forster, Selected Stories [Penguin Classics edition.]

The next meeting will be on Thursday February 14th at 8pm at Dove Cottage to discuss Ali Smith's Autumn (2016). March's meeting venue will be confirmed nearer the time.

We look forward to catching up with members old and new, all are welcome!

Westmorland Homecare

Grasmere now has its own local homecare service.

Looking after people properly has never been more important. As our population grows and people are living for longer it has become increasingly difficult to find high quality care in your own home.

Westmorland Homecare is founded on traditional values to provide a better standard of care services. They deliver companionship, home help, personal care and dementia care to people in their own homes and have built a reputation for being an outstanding home care service. The service has recently been awarded Best Homecare Provider in Cumbria 2018/19.

Set up and run by two doctors they have a passion for providing care that is like no other. Finding the very best staff and training them to highest standard is central to their philosophy. They ensure small teams or regular homecare assistants to provide a family style service to clients in rural communities.

It is great to finally have a service on our doorstep that enables people to live life to the full. The service aims to provide the support you may need to remain independent, happy and active in your own home. For more information on the service please call their friendly team on 01539 725107.

I bought a pair of branded trainers from a private seller on an online marketplace. When they arrived, they were clearly a cheap imitation, not what was advertised, terrible quality and not fit for purpose. Do I have any rights? What can I do?

If you're shopping online from an individual seller, the principle of "buyer beware" applies - which means the seller does not have to declare any defects. However, they must not misrepresent the goods, for example, by claiming they're a certain popular brand when they are not, so you may have grounds to ask for your money back.

Contact the seller to explain the problem, let them know your rights and ask for your money back. If this gets you nowhere, check to see if the online marketplace has its own protection and disputes resolution system.

Finally, if neither of these work for you, consider making a claim to the court, known as a small claim. There is guidance on how to do this on the Citizens Advice website at www.citizensadvice.org.uk.

Over the past year, I have been getting into debt as my wages don't keep pace with inflation. Every time I reach my credit card limit, the company increases it automatically. At first I thought this was wonderful but now I can't see how I will ever repay it. What can I do?

Citizens Advice have found that many people are in your situation – irresponsible credit card lenders are pushing people further into the red by raising their credit limit without checking their ability to repay it.

It's really important that anyone who is struggling to pay off their credit card seeks debt advice as soon as possible. Citizens Advice can help you to work out the best way to manage your finances and strategies for repaying your debt. They can also help you to maximise your income, including any benefits or tax credits you may be entitled to.

If you feel you are entering into a credit card debt spiral, get help as soon as you can.
